The demand for the latter from the new national as a basis of circulation keeps the drm, with a tendency towards a fractional adwas stronger, and an advance of 1/2 a 1/2 took place in most of the shares. Later the market was steady. The volume of business in the street is very limited, owing to the absence from town of some of the brokers and operators and an indisposition on the part of those remaining to make new con-tracts pending their summer absence in the country. The condition of the money market is, hewever, favor-able to speculations for a rise. Call leans are made freely on government collaterals. Commercial paper continues in very limited supply, and the best grade is taken at 6 a 7 per cent, the next best varying from 71/2 to 9.

dent of the Bank Department of this State, to succeed Mr. John A. Stewart as Sub-Treasurer, isjannounced from Washington on official authority. This gives great satisfaction to the financial community here, who were ap-prehensive that the Secretary of the Treasury might fall prehensive that the Servicary of the Treasury might fall into the error of giving the office to a politician who, without understanding his duties, might at the same time be tempted to use his position for the promotion of party and other purposes. Mr. Stewart retires to assume the presidency of the New York Trust Company at the end of the month, and he will carry n the respect and esteem of all who have had official relations with him.

Mr. Jacob Russell, who has just resigned the position of cashier of the Sub-Treasury, had occupied it for sixteen years, and it is stated that he will soon receive an tment in connection with all the Sub-Treasuries.
waste of trouble and saliva which is at present regard to stamps, is a source of great annoyance to the business public, and one which calls for the estab lishment of a stamp office, such as exists in the capitals of each of the kingdoms of England, Ireland and Scotland. Stamped paper is bought from the stamp offices there pt for sale by the law scriveners and licensed dealers in stamps throughout the country. Bankers, antities to the stamp offices to be stamped with a press ark and kept for use. This process involves a mere inentation of the paper, and dispenses with the use of ink and gum. At the same time it obviates the risk of stamps which are affixed coming By the use of private marks also in the stamp, it can be made, and in this way the forgery of important docu-nents has been detected. Where the stamp office furnishes the paper, an extra charge is in-variably made for the same, but where the applicant for the stamps sends his own paper the net tax only is charged. We recommended the subject to the attention of the Secretary of the Treasury and the on of three now sitting to inquire into the ways axation. There should be a stamp office in the capital of the Internal Revenue Department it could be done with little or no expense beyond that necessary for pur-

The amount he lost in cash was, however, it is represented on good authority, too inconsiderable (namely, $25,000) to be the cause of his failure. He gave notes for balances against him with his brokers, which are maturing and unpaid, so that the latter may be considered sufferers alike with his other creditors. It is understood that he drew from his bankers all the money belonging to his firm, and something more, amounting in all to about a hundred thousand dollars. A certain wareto about a hundred thousand dollars. A certain ware-houseman, who is supposed to liave acted in collusion with him in obtaining advances on imaginary barrels of lard stored with him, is also reported to be missing. The Secretary of the Treasury has just issued the following important and timely order in relation to the collection of revenue in the Southern States:—

iowing important and timely order in relation to the collection of revenue in the Southern States:—

Triangury Dryantmant, June 21, 1865.

Section 46 of the Internal Revenue act, approved June 20, 1864, provides that whenever the authority of the United States shall have been re-established in any State where the execution of the laws had previously been impossible, the provisions of the act shall be put in force in such State with such modification of inapplicable regulations in regard to assessment, levy, time and manner of collection as may be directed by the Department. Without waiving in any degree the rights of the government in respect to taxes that have heretofore accrued, or assuming to exonerate the taxpayer from his legal responsibility for such taxes, the Department does not deem it advisable to insist at present upon their payment, so far as they were payable prior to the establishment of a collection district embracing the territory in which the taxpayer resides.

But the assessors in the several collection districts recently established in the States lately in insurrection, are directed to require returns, and to make assessments for the several classes of taxes for the appropriate legal period preceding the first regular day on which a tax becomes due after the establishment of the district, that is to say, in the several districts in question. The proper tax will be assessed upon the income of the year 1864, inasmuch as the tax for that year is due upon the 30th day of June, subsequently to the establishment of the district. All persons found doing business for which a license is required, will be assessed upon the income of the year 1864, inasmuch as the tax for that year is due upon the 30th day of June, subsequently to the establishment of the district. All persons found doing business for which monthly or quarterly returns are required to be made, will be assessed upon the income of the year 1864, in monthly or quarterly returns are required to be made, will be assessed to the proper licens will apply to those taxes which are payable at different periods.

A manufacturer of tobacco, for instance, in a district established after the 1st and before the 20th day of May, will be assessed upon his sales for the month of April. When any manufactured articles are found in the hands of a purchaser, and it is shown to the satisfaction of the assessor that the goods were actually soid and passed out of the hands of the manufacturer before the commencement of the period for which he is properly taxable, the articles will not be subject to tax in the hands of such purchaser, unless transported beyond the limits of the States lately in Insurrection. The holder of any distilled spirits, manufactured tobacco, or other article which is liable to seizure on account of the absence of inspection marks, may present to the assessor the evidence that the articles in his hands, or under the circumstances which obtain in the particular case, are not subject to tax, except as above stated; and if the assessor is satiafied, he will cause the package to be so marked that they may be identified and sold without liability to seizure.

Whenever any collector shall have reason to believe marked that they may be identified and sold without liability to seizure.

Whenever any collector shall have reason to believe that the holder of any goods on which the tax has not been paid intends to remove the same beyond the limits of the 'tates lately in insurrection, and to evade the payment of the tax, he will seize the goods and take the necessary steps for their condemnation, unless the holder shall give bond, as hereinafter prescribed, for the transportation or expertation of the goods, or shall return the same to the assessor, and pay to the collector the amount of tax that shall be found due. In all cases where a seizure shall be made under these instructions, the Department, on being informed of such seizure, will consider the case and extend such measure of relief as the facts shall justify. In the States of Virginia, Tennessee and Louisiana collection districts were some time since cstablished, with such boundaries as to include territory in which it has but recently become possible to enforce the laws of the United States in those districts.

The rule laid down above will be so modified as to require the assessment and collection of the first taxes, which become due after the establishment of assessment divisions in the particular locality. Whenever assessments are to be made, based on transactions which may have been carried on in a depreciated currency, it will be proper for the assessor to ascertain the amount of the income or value of sales or receipts in lawful money of the United States, according to the best information becau obtain as to the average value of such depreciated currency for the period covered by the assessment. The duties upon cotton and spirits turpentine are, by a special provision of the statute, made payable by the person in whose hands the articles are first found by officers of the Internal Revenue. With reference to those articles, therefore, the rule laid down will not apply, but assessments will be made wherever they are found.

Whenever any person holds, as a purchaser, any articles which, under the Internal Revenue laws, may be transported under bond, and dealres to transport the same to any Northern port or place, he may apply to the assessor to have the amount of tax assertained and determined. The proper examination having been had, the assessor to have the amount of tax assertained and determined. The proper examination having been had, the assessor to have the amount of duties thereon to the collector, and the collector will thereupen grants a permit for their removal, after the execution of a bond for their storage in a bonded warehouses. On or before the tenth day of each month the assessor will transmit to the office of Internal Revenue a statement showing the amount of duties thus certified durins the month proceding, and the collector will, on or before the same date, transmit a descriptive schedule of all bonds thus taken by him in the course o before the same date, transmit a descriptive schedule of all bonds thus taken by him in the course of the preceding mouth.

When goods arrive in any Northern port under such transportation bond, or under permit issued by a Collector of Custons under the regulations of May 9, 1865, they will be received into the proper warehouse established under the Internal Revenue laws in the distriction which the goods are brought, and the necessary certificates will be issued for the cancellation of the bond in the same manner as if the goods were transported from another bonded warehouse. Whenever any person is assessed for a liconse is found to have paid a license tax to a special agent, appointed under the regulations of the Treasury Department for commercial intercourse with insurrectionary districts, the collector will issue a license for the year ending May 1, 1869, and will collect only so much as may be due for the time intervening after the expiration of the license issued by the special agent. The amount assessed and thus left uncollected will be abated when the proper claim is presented to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

H. McCULLOCH, Secretary of the Treasury.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Recorder Hoffman.

Soon after the court opened yesterday morning the Grand Jury presented a number of indictments and re-sumed the discharge of their duties. The prisoners were afterwards arraigned to plead. Some of the accused per-sons pleaded guilty, while the majority, on stating that they were not guilty, were remanded for trial. Thus far the Grand Jury have found a very large number of bills, which have been disposed of with considerable despatch, so that there is a fair prospect of clearing the prison be-fore the summer vacation. District Atterney Hall, though not appearing in court, gives his personal and constant attention to all the cases, and the arrangements of his office are such as to greatly facilitate the transac tion of the criminal business of the county.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

James O'Connor and John Reynolds, jointly indicted James O'Connor and John Reynolds, jointly indicted for robbery in the first degree, pleaded guilty to grand larceny, and were remanded for sentence. The complainant was Willard E. Dudiey, residing at 77 Robinson street, who stated in his complaint that on the night of the 11th inst., while he was in a saloon in Greene street, the prisoners came in and engaged in conversation with him, stating that they had just returned from the war. On leaving the saloon he was followed by the prisoners, who jostled against him, and when he reached the corner of Prince street O'Connor came in front of him and asked him what time it was, whereupon he took out his gold watch to give him the information, when O'Connor struck his hand and seized the watch, severing it from the chain.

THE UNION SQUARE GARROTERS PLEAD GUILTY TO ROBBERY.

Charles Gay and James Morrison were also jointly charged with the high crime of robbory. Mr. Wm. R. B. Wing, of Otaogo, who was the complainant, stated that on the morning of the 14th of this month, about five B. Wing, of Otsogo, who was the complainant, stated that on the morning of the 14th of this month, about five o'clock, while walking along Union square, near Fifteenth street, Gay approached him from behind and seized him around the neck and held him firmly, when Morrison suddenly appeared on the scene and commenced to rife his pockets. Mr. Wing was held so tightly by the throat that it was impossible for him to make an outcry. The robbers took his watch and pocketbook, containing three hundred dollars. The men escaped with their plunder, leaving their victim in a helpless condition; but, fortunately, some police officers was the robbery and pursued and captured the highwaymen. The next day Mr. Wing positively identified the prisoners, and they were committed for trial. The case was so plain and of such an aggravated nature that they threw themselves upon the mercy of the Court and were remanded for sentence.

John Girst, charged with stealing one hundred dollars from John McCouley, at a saloon in the Tenth avenue, pleaded guilty and was sent to the Penitentiary for two years. This prisoner was a boy, who but a short time since was before the Court on a charge of larceny.

William Warren was charged with petty larceny from the person, in stealing a pocket handkerehief worth fifty cents from the pocket of Mary Jarvis, while she was looking in a shop window in Grand street. He pleaded guilty to petty larceny and was sent to the Penitentiary for two months.

Jefferson Boylin pleaded guilty of an attempt at burglary in the third degree, the indictment charging him with breaking into the store of Charles Hungey. No. 36 for two months.

Jefferson Boylin pleaded guilty of an attempt at bur-glary in the third degree, the indictment charging him with breaking into the store of Charles Hussey, No. 36 Oliver street, and stealing three dollars worth of liquors Oliver street, and stealing three dollars worth of liquors and cigars. The recorder sentenced him to the State Prison for two years and four months. THE ALLEGED HOMOGIDE IN JONES' WOOD—AC-QUITTAL OF PATRICK CURRAN.

The only case tried by the jury was an indictment for manslaughter, charging Patrick Curran with shooting John Stewart, on the 23d of May, at Jones' Wood. It John Stewart, on the 23d of May, at Jones' Wood. It was supposed that the trial would occupy the whole of the day, but the investigation had not proceeded far when it was seen that the testimony of the prosecution was utterly insufficient to sustain the charge. It appeared from the evidence that on the day of the occurrence that the members and friends of the Church of the Transfiguration went on an excursion, and, as is the case on these occasions, a number of rowdies gained access to the grounds and got up several fights in the course of the day. The only witness to the occurrence on the part of the people was a hard looking youth, who gave his name as Peter Murphy, but who, it turned out afterwards, is known by the name of Markey. He said that at quarter past six there was a fight; he ran over, and saw the prisoner fighting with a young man, and afterwards the friends of the prisoner and the friends of the other party came up and continued the fight. He saw a young man hand Curran a revolver, with which he struck Stewart twice on the head, and afterwards turned round, cocked the pistol and fired it at Stewart. The policemen then made their appearance and the crowd scattered in all directions.

On his cross-examination Murphy admitted that he the pistol and fired it at Newart. The policemen then made their appearance and the crowd scattered in all directions.

On his cross-examination Murphy admitted that he had been arrested for stealing, had jumped the "bounty" and had no regular employment at present. A member of the Metropoltuan police force in Williamsburg gave Murphy, alias Markey, a very bad reputation, and said he would not believe him under oath. Curran was arrested that evening, at his reaidence in South Brooklyn, and the officer found a silver mounted pistol, having three barrels loaded and one empty, and on exemination of the body of Stewart (who had only lived a few hours after the shooting) a ball was discovered similar in size to the other three balls. The accused, on being arrested, said he got into a muss up there, that the pistol was not his and that he did not know the person who handed it to him in the woods.

Mr. Sponcer then proceeded to call a number of witnesses who saw the transaction, whose to-simony went to show that while Curran was drinking a glass of ale at the bar, and interfering with no person, he was struck by some person with the but of a revolver, and defended himself by returning the blow, when the crowd surrounded him, some of whom had revolvers, clinched him and knocked him down. At this time a shot was fired, when the accused was tussiling with these men. The witness positively stated it was not fired by Curran, but by a man in light clothes. Officer Peeney saw Stewart early in the afternoon, at which time he was conducting himself in a disorderly manner, boasting that no God damned policeman gould arrest him. He had not the same clothes on then that he wore when the officer Peeney have the foundation of the light had tit would be unsafe to convict the accused.

Assistant District Attorney Hutchings made a statement to the jury in reference to the notorious character of the deceased, and virtually abandoned the case. The jury adopted the suggestion of the Court, and promptly rendered a verdict of no guilty.

Action for Loss of a Husband.
SUPREME COURT—CREUIT.
Before Hon. Judge Clerke.

JUNE 22.—Empa Buller, administrative, vs. Gustave Herter.—This was an action for damages sustained by the plaintiff in consequence of the death of her husband, which was caused through the alleged negligence of the defendant in leaving an excavation for a cellar, in front of his building in Mercer street, in an insecure state—the bearding around it not being sufficiently high to prevent a person failing over. The plaintiff's austand fell into the excavation in July, 1864, and was found dead by some persons passing, and removed to the station house by the police. The deceased had with him, when he left home, as testified to by his widow, a gold watch and chain, a diamond pin, and about $175. The money was returned to her, but she did not get the watch, chain and pin. The theory of the defence was that the deceased met his death by violence, and that he was not concluded when the court adjourned for the day.

THE SCOTTISH PICNIC.

Eghth Annual Excursion of the New York Caledonian Club-The Picnic of the Season-Two Thousand People Par-ticipate-The Scotchmen in Their Glory

A picnic is usually enjoyable. Slight things, however, occasionally interfere with and disarrange the best laid plans. A fog does so occasionally. A fog sided Early's attack at Codar creek on the 19th of last October, it formed one of the features of the late ocean regatts, and again, yesterday, a fog slightly disarranged the programme which had been laid out for the celebration of the eighth annual plenic of the New York Caledonian Club. A delay of one hour took place in the time of starting owing to the fog, which prevented the steamer Sylvan Grove making her usual morning trip from New Rochelle on time. She took the excursionists on board at South Sixth street, Williamsburg, at half-past eight o'clock, being just one hour later than the time advertised.

was rather warm work, even at that early hour of the morning. Women with babies and young children ar-rived early, with military promptitude in fact, and mar-shalled their light infantry dangerously close to the water's edge for fear of being left behind. Every passing steamer was closely scrutinized by the anxious matrons who appeared to derive great satisfaction from a rigorous performance of the double duty of looking after the children and looking out for the steamer. The ar-rival of several members of the Caledonian Club in kilts and tartan stockings, created a temporary diversion and raised every body's spirits. But the day grew warmer, and no breeze came from the river, when suddenly shout was raised of HERR SHE COMES. Steaming around the head of the pier the Sylvan Grove hove in sight. The men at the wheel worked with frantic energy and soon she was made fast to the dock and a gang plank run ashore. The Caledonians manned the plank and banded their friends safely aboard.

TO FULTON FERRY.

All aboard was shouted, the lines cast off, and the boat steamed down to Fulton ferry, where her arrival was greeted by another large party. Handkerchiefs were waved, friendly nods and smiles exchanged. A few hundred more, men, women, children and baskets, were taken on board, and the steamer started for the foot of CHARLTON STREET, NORTH RIVER, where the barge Walter Sands was moored. On board the barge were about twelve hundred people, and baskets innumerable. The steamer was lashed to the barge and innumerable. The steamer was lashed to the barge and together they started up the river en route for Dudley's Grove. The last stoppage was made at the foot of THIRTIPT'S STREET, NORTH RIVER, where about two hundred people were in waiting. The whole number emharked on board the steamer and barge was about two thousand. All of them were known by some member of the Club, so that roughs and members of the light fingered fraternity had no chance to crowd in and exercise their peculiar avocations.

UP THE RIVER.

The sail up the river was something to be remembered for a life time. Walter Scott saug—for a life time. Walter Scott sang—

Twere worth ten years of mortal life
To view that seems of warlike strife.

But more years than the great bard of the North mentioned will elapse ere two thousand people are collected together under such onlyouble auspices as were those of yesterday. Men, women and children of all ages had a few hours of pleasurable enjoyment which they will all long remember. Robertson's string band had been engaged, and to its music the lads and lasses of Bonnie Scotland danced stately quadrilles, merry reels and giddy waltzes. Colonel James L. Frazer, President, and Mr. Alexander McLean, Treasuror of the New York and New Rochelle Steamboat Company, contributed very much to the enjoyment of the company.

the enjoyment of the company.

THE CALEDONIAN CLUB,
under whose auspices the pionic was inaugurated, is an association of our Scotch fellow citizons. In the year 1856 they resolved themselves into a society for the purpose of extending a helping hand to such of their countrymen as might require assistance in the country of their adoption, and also to raise funds to build a hall where the national games of Scotland can be kept up.
They received a charter of incorporation in 1859, and have now three hundred and forty-five sotive members.

The following are the names of the officers:—

President, or Chief, George Mitchell; Vice President, or Second Chieffain, John Goldie; Second Chieffain, or Treasurer, John Barrie; Third Chieffain, or Secretary, John Watt; Fourth Chieffain, or Corresponding Secretary, Lawrence Robertson.

The above mentioned gentlemen accompanied the excursionists yesterday.

DEDLEY'S GROVE.

cursionists yesterday.

DUDLEY'S GROVE.

The excursionists arrived at Dudley's Grove about halfpast twelve o'clock. Everybody looked out for a good place to go into camp—I mean, to get dinner. Dudley's Grove is about twenty miles from New York, up the North river, between Yonkers and Hastings. A green award, shady trees and high rocks all formed features of the picturesque calculated to attract excursionists.

DINNER
was the first thing to be thought of. Up among the cliffs the excursionists climbed, and soon the tables were covered with various edibles appropriate to the ocasion. Roast lamb, pickled salmon, oysters, pickles, cake and all the other delicacies of the season soon cov-

A THUNDER STORM.

About three o'clock the sky became overclouded.

Heavy black clouds had for some time been gathering, and soon the rain, long threatening, commenced to fall.

Captain J. H. Chase, of the Sylvan Grove, instantly ordered the storm whistle to be sounded, when the swings, footrace course and other scenes of amusement were in-mediately deserted.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

At half-past four o'clock the whistle sounded for "home, sweet home." The rain had already commenced to fall, and gave a strong intimation to clear out, and on board the boat were two Highland pipers, who contributed to the enjoyment of all on board.

HOME, SWEST HOME.

By seven o'clock all hands were again on dry land and acknowledged that they had taken part in the most enjoyable picnic of the season.
